FROM THE CHAIRS

The SNO 6th Biennial Pediatric Neuro-Oncology Research Conference is now virtual. Building on the success of our previous pediatric meetings, this biennial conference encourages the sharing of ideas and results, new collaborations, and offers attendees a state-of-the-art update in the field of pediatric brain tumor research.

The scientific program will offer outstanding keynote and plenary addresses on a range of timely topics. Conference participants will also have opportunities to present their work and learn about other's advances — through short oral presentation and scientific posters selected by the abstract review committee. Against this backdrop, the conference promises to be an outstanding forum for networking and building lasting relationships with like-minded pediatric colleagues from around the world.

This year's program will feature an Education Day on Saturday, June 12, with the theme "Defining Our Population." Participants will hear from expert speakers on topics such as health disparities, diversity and inclusion in clinical trials, AYA population, tumor predisposition syndromes, and BRAF mutations in adults and children.

We hope you will join us for this unique educational event!
